Background

12. Blair and O'Brien plead that during the evening hours of Saturday, April 18, 2020, Wortman began a spree of committing crimes ("the Spree") that included shooting people and pets with various firearms and burning property including cars and residential structures.
13. Blair and O'Brien plead that the Spree continued until approximately 11:26 a.m. on April 19, 2020.
14. Blair and O'Brien plead that during the Spree, Wortman killed 22 people; caused personal injuries to at least six people; burned at least four residential structures; burned or damaged at least three motor vehicles; and, killed or injured at least five pets.
15. Blair and O'Brien plead that Spree began in Portapique, Colchester County, Nova Scotia.
16. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman's first victim was Lisa Banfield, a woman with whom he then or formerly had an intimate relationship. Some time prior to 10:00 p.m. on April 18, 2020, Wortman assaulted her and she escaped into the forest and hid there until approximately 6:30 a.m. on April 19, 2020.
17. Blair and O'Brien plead that by approximately 10:00 p.m. on April 18, 2020, the RCMP had begun receiving messages from 911 advising of shootings in the Portapique area. The RCMP arrived in Portapique at approximately 10:20 p.m. to find buildings burning.
18. Blair and O'Brien plead that upon their arrival in Portapique, the RCMP were informed by an unnamed victim that that victim had been shot by a man in what appeared to be a police car, like those of the RCMP members who arrived on scene, and that the victim believed the shooter may have been "Gabe" who owned property in the area.
19. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 11:32 p.m. on April 18, 2020, the RCMP issued a notice via social media platform Twitter, stating that it was responding to a firearms complaint in the Portapique area and advising the public to "stay inside their homes with doors locked at this time."

20. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman left the Portapique area at some point during the overnight of April 18-19, 2020, hiding overnight in or around Debert, Colchester County, Nova Scotia.
21. Blair and O'Brien plead that the RCMP failed to contain Wortman within the community of Portapique, and that the RCMP knew or ought to have known that Wortman had fled from Portapique, or that the RCMP ought to have conducted its operations upon the reasonable possibility that Wortman had fled from Portapique.
22. Blair and O'Brien plead that the RCMP issued a "Be On the Look Out" for Wortman to other RCMP members at or around 1:07 a.m. on April 19, 2020.
23. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 6:30 a.m. on April 19, 2020, Lisa Banfield called 911 and reported to the RCMP that Wortman had an authentic RCMP uniform and a replica RCMP police cruiser and multiple firearms.
24. Blair and O'Brien plead that prior to Lisa Banfield informing the RCMP that Wortman was impersonating an RCMP officer (at approximately 6:30 a.m. on April 19, 2020, approximately eight hours after receiving similar information from the above-mentioned unnamed victim), Wortman killed 13 people; physically and/or psychologically injured at least five more; burned at least three residential buildings and damaged at least three motor vehicles.
25. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 8:02 a.m. on April 19, 2020, the RCMP issued a further notice on Twitter stating that there is an "active shooter situation" in Portapique where it remained on scene, and asked residents "in the area" to "stay inside your homes & lock your doors." Shortly thereafter, at approximately 8:54 a.m., a further notice on Twitter was issued by the RCMP, stating Wortman's identity and describing him as "a white man, bald, 6'2-6'3 with green eyes" and "armed & dangerous."
26. Blair and O'Brien plead that, in fact, Wortman had by this time left Debert and traveled to Wentworth, Colchester County, Nova Scotia, arriving at or around 6:30 a.m. and remaining there until approximately 9:23 a.m., during which time he killed three people and burned at least one residential building containing two dogs.
27. Blair and O'Brien plead that, several hours later, Wortman traveled back in the direction of Debert (and eventually on to Truro, Colchester County, Nova Scotia), separately killing three more people en route between approximately 9:23 a.m. and 10:08 a.m.
28. Blair and O'Brien plead that at or around 9:48 a.m., Wortman also approached another home in Glenholme, Colchester County, Nova Scotia where he attempted unsuccessfully to gain access. The residents of that home contacted the RCMP at the Bible Hill Detachment, who has already contacted 911 10-15 minutes prior to inform authorities of their knowledge of Wortman and his possession of replica police cars, to advise that they knew that it was Wortman who was at their home and that he was driving an RCMP cruiser. The RCMP did not respond to the call, appearing to disagree with the information provided by the Glenholme residents, the residents receiving a call shortly thereafter that Wortman was en route to Lower Onslow, Colchester County, Nova Scotia and to remain their home. At or around 10:04 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice on Twitter advising the public to "avoid HWY 4 near Hidden Hilltop campground in #Glenholme. Gabriel Wortman is in the area."

29. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 10:17 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice on Twitter stating that Wortman "may be driving what appears to be an RCMP vehicle & may be wearing an RCMP uniform." A few minutes later, at or around 10:21 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice on Twitter stating that Wortman was "currently in the #CentralOnslow #Debert area in a vehicle that may resemble what appears to be an RCMP vehicle & may be wearing what appears to be an RCMP uniform. Please stay inside and avoid the area."
30. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman next traveled to Shubenacadie, Hants County, Nova Scotia in which community he injured Constable Chad Morrison and killed three more people, including Constable Heidi Stevenson, burned two motor vehicles, stole two motor vehicles and shot and injured a dog between approximately 10:49 a.m. and 11:06 a.m.
31. Blair and O'Brien plead that at or around 11:04 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice via Twitter stating that Wortman was "last seen travelling southbound on Hwy #102 from #Brookfield area in what appears to be RCMP vehicle & may be wearing RCMP uniform." At or around 11:06 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice via Twitter stating that Wortman was "now believed to be driving small silver Chevrolet SUV. Travelling southbound on Hwy #102 from #Brookfield area." Shortly thereafter, at or about 11:24 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice via Twitter confirming that Wortman was driving a "silver Chevy Tracker" and that he was "Last seen #Milford."
32. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman next traveled to Enfield, on the border of Hants County and Halifax County, Nova Scotia where Wortman was shot and killed by the RCMP at or around 11:26 a.m., at which time he was found to be driving a Mazda3.
33. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman used the RCMP uniform and the replica RCMP cruiser during the majority of the Spree, except to kill the final person in Shubenacadie.

34. Blair and O'Brien plead that at no time did the RCMP, or anybody else on its behalf or independently, issue an alert via Alert Ready, an emergency alert system available to Nova Scotia to distribute public safety messages Province-wide.

The Proposed Representative Plaintiffs

35. Blair is the son of the deceased Greg Blair and the stepson of the deceased Jamie Blair. Wortman killed Greg Blair and Jamie Blair in their home in Portapique and then burned the house on April 18, 2020. Blair's two younger brothers were in the home, but were not killed by Wortman.
36. O'Brien is the widower of the deceased Heather O'Brien. At or around 10:08 a.m. on April 19, 2020, Wortman impersonated an RCMP officer to stop her on the road near her home in Masstown, Colchester County, Nova Scotia and shot her to death in her car.
37. Blair and O'Brien will be seeking and presume that they will be granted the status of Personal Representative of the Estates of Greg Blair and Heather O'Brien, respectively.
38. Blair and O'Brien are willing to represent all of the members of all subclasses should this action be certified, to provide instructions to legal counsel, to attend discovery examinations, attend and testify at motions and trials of this Action.

Causes of Action and Liability

39. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the Class Members and those killed and injured and those who suffered property damage by Wortman were vulnerable members of society who relied exclusively on the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS for police services. Blair and O'Brien further plead that the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS owed to the Class Members a fiduciary duty to provide for their safety and security with the highest level of honesty, good faith and in the best interests of the Class Members.
40. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS owed a duty of care to the Class Members and those killed and injured and those who suffered property damage by Wortman and that the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS breached the standard of care expected of them.
41. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS breached their duties owed to the Class Members and those killed and injured and those who suffered property damage by Wortman as follows:

- a) The RCMP failed to investigate and/or take action in relation to reports that it received prior to the Spree that Wortman had in his possession illegal weapons;
- b) The RCMP failed to investigate and/or take action in relation to reports that it received prior to the Spree that Wortman was physically abusive to women and that he in fact physically abused women;
- c) The RCMP failed to investigate and/or take action in relation to reports and notices that it received prior to the Spree that Wortman stated that he wished to harm police officers;
- d) The RCMP sent too few members to Portapique to adequately respond to the crimes being committed there by Wortman;
- e) The RCMP failed to employ an Emergency Response Team when it ought to have done so during the Spree, or when the RCMP did employ an Emergency Response Team during the Spree, it failed to do so in a timely or appropriate manner and failed to instruct said Emergency Response Team to mobilize in a manner that was likely to have located and contained Wortman;
- f) The RCMP sent alerts via Twitter that were inadequate because: 1) the population affected by the Spree was older in age and less likely to be users of Twitter; 2) the internet coverage in a large portion of the area affected by the Spree was inadequate to provide the Twitter alerts to the entire population affected by the Spree; and 3) the information contained in the Twitter alerts were either inaccurate or insufficient to allow the population affected by the Spree to properly protect itself;
- g) The RCMP failed to use the Alert Ready system to send an Emergency Alert to the public in Nova Scotia to warn the public, and that such warning ought to have included the nature of Wortman's alleged crimes and that he was using an RCMP uniform and replica RCMP cruiser to assist him with his crimes;
- h) The RCMP failed to secure the perimeter of the community of Portapique to stop Wortman from leaving that community;
- i) The RCMP failed to accept and act on credible information provided by the public, Wortman's victims and Wortman's potential victims, including but not limited to the unnamed victim who first alerted the RCMP that he had been shot by a person appearing to be in a police car on April 18, 2020 whom he believed may have been "Gabe" and the residents of Glenholme who advised on April 19, 2020 of Wortman's whereabouts and their personal knowledge of him;

- j) The RCMP failed to block the roads in northern Colchester County once it accepted that Wortman had left the community of Portapique;
- k) The RCMP failed to use all resources available to it to enable it to track, locate and stop Wortman, including but not limited to a helicopter capable of conducting both nighttime and daytime searches of the land and forest in and around Portapique and neighboring communities wherein Wortman may have been hiding, or which it did employ such resources, it failed to do so in a timely or appropriate manner or in a manner;
- l) The RCMP failed to request the assistance of nearby municipal police services, including the Amherst Police Department and the Truro Police Service, notwithstanding that the Truro Police Service, in particular, offered assistance, was nearby, ready to assist and would have easily stopped Wortman when he traveled through Truro in the replica police cruiser;
- m) The RCMP failed to provide Constable Heidi Stevenson with a proper and adequate police cruiser and, as a result, Wortman had an advantage over her when their vehicles collided in Shubenacadie;
- n) Other breaches of duty that might become clear once disclosure and discovery are complete.

42. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGNS breached its duties owed to the Class Members as follows:

- a) It failed to put into place policies and operational requirements for the investigation of illegal weapons complaints;
- b) It failed to put into place policies and operational requirements for the investigation of complaints of physical abuse against women by their male partners;
- c) It failed to adequately populate the Provincial Police force (the RCMP) in Colchester and Hants Counties;
- d) It failed to provide adequate resources to the Provincial Police force (the RCMP) in Colchester and Hants Counties;
- e) It failed to put into place policies and operational requirements for the use of the Alert Ready system by the Provincial Police force (the RCMP);

- f) It failed to put into place policies and operational requirements for the use of neighbouring police forces by the Provincial Police force (the RCMP);
 - g) It failed to properly oversee, audit, inspect and qualify the Provincial Police force (the RCMP);
 - h) Other breaches of duty that might become clear once disclosure and discovery are complete.
43. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead and rely upon the following causes of action: negligence, negligent investigation and breach of fiduciary duty.
44. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGNS is liable for the wrongs committed by the RCMP via the doctrines of agency and/or vicarious liability.
45. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGC and the AGNS are jointly and severally liable to the Class Members for the wrongs committed by the RCMP.

Punitive Damages

46. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the Provincial Police force (the RCMP) has handled the Spree and its aftermath in a high-handed, self-serving and disrespectful manner and is deserving of punishment. The RCMP has acted in this manner as follows:
- a) It deliberately misled O'Brien by telling him that Heather O'Brien was shot and killed from "across the road;"
 - b) It deliberately misled the Class Members and the public during its press conference on June 4, 2020 in that it confirmed that nobody was pulled over in their cars by Wortman using the replica RCMP cruiser;
 - c) It misled various of the Class Members regarding the requirements to keep the mobile phones of their deceased family members;
 - d) It carelessly misled at least one of the Class Members about a possible relationship their deceased family member might have had with Wortman prior to their death;
 - e) It released the automobile of a deceased family member to a Class Member after the investigation with gun casings and body parts still in the automobile. The Class Member was required to clean the automobiles themselves;

- f) It refused to provide information to the Class Members regarding their family members' deaths while failing to secure that information from release to other persons or organizations until such time as Class Members were properly informed;
 - g) It allowed photographs and/or videos of the deceased to be made public on social media before the Class Members were informed of their family members' deaths;
 - h) It allowed a deceased victim's body to remain in a vehicle while said vehicle was towed from a crime scene to be collected and analysed as evidence, rather than ensuring that the body was first removed and cared for in the appropriate manner before the vehicle was seized;
 - i) Other such instances of high-handed, self-serving and disrespectful conduct that might become clear once disclosure and discovery are complete.
47. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that those actions of the RCMP are deserving of punishment by an award of punitive damages.

Legislation

48. Blair and O'Brien plead and rely upon the following statutes and the regulations made thereunder, as amended, as appropriate: the Fatal Injuries Act, supra; the Survival of Actions Act, supra; the Estate Actions Act, RSNS 1989, c 152; the Tortfeasors Act, RSNS 1989, c 471; the Negligence Act, RSNS 1989, c 95; the Police Act, SNS 2004, c 31; Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act, RSC 1985, c R-10; Crown Liability and Proceedings Act, RSC 1985, c C-50; Proceedings Against the Crown Act, RSNS 1989, c 360; and the Judicature Act, RSNS 1989, c 240.

Background

12. Blair and O'Brien plead that during the evening hours of Saturday, April 18, 2020, Wortman began a spree of committing crimes ("the Spree") that included shooting people and pets with various firearms and burning property including cars and residential structures.
13. Blair and O'Brien plead that the Spree continued until approximately 11:26 a.m. on April 19, 2020.
14. Blair and O'Brien plead that during the Spree, Wortman killed 22 people; caused personal injuries to at least six people; burned at least four residential structures; burned or damaged at least three motor vehicles; and, killed or injured at least five pets.
15. Blair and O'Brien plead that Spree began in Portapique, Colchester County, Nova Scotia.
16. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman's first victim was Lisa Banfield, a woman with whom he then or formerly had an intimate relationship. Some time prior to ~~At approximately~~ 10:00 p.m. on April 18, 2020, Wortman assaulted her and she escaped into the forest and hid there until approximately 6:30 a.m. on April 19, 2020.
17. Blair and O'Brien plead that ~~by~~ at approximately 10:00 p.m. on April 18, 2020, the RCMP had begun receiving ~~received~~ messages from 911 advising of shootings in the Portapique area. The RCMP arrived in Portapique at approximately 10:20 p.m. to find buildings burning.
18. Blair and O'Brien plead that upon their arrival in Portapique, the RCMP were informed by an unnamed victim that that victim had been shot by a man in what appeared to be a police car, like those of the RCMP members who arrived on scene, and that the victim believed the shooter may have been "Gabe" who owned property in the area.
19. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 11:32 p.m. on April 18, 2020, the RCMP issued a notice via social media ~~media~~ platform Twitter, stating that it was responding to a firearms complaint in the Portapique area and advising the public to "stay inside their homes with doors locked at this time."

20. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman left the Portapique area at some point during the overnight of April 18-19, 2020, hiding overnight in or around Debert, Colchester County, Nova Scotia.
21. Blair and O'Brien plead that the RCMP failed to contain Wortman within the community of Portapique, and that the RCMP knew or ought to have known that Wortman had fled from Portapique, or that the RCMP ought to have conducted its operations upon the reasonable possibility that Wortman had fled from Portapique.
22. Blair and O'Brien plead that the RCMP issued a "Be On the Look Out" for Wortman to other RCMP members at or around 1:07 a.m. on April 19, 2020. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 6:30 a.m. on April 19, 2020, Lisa Banfield called 911 and reported to the RCMP that Wortman had an authentic RCMP uniform and a replica RCMP police cruiser and multiple firearms.
23. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 6:30 a.m. on April 19, 2020, Lisa Banfield called 911 and reported to the RCMP that Wortman had an authentic RCMP uniform and a replica RCMP police cruiser and multiple firearms. Blair and O'Brien plead that the RCMP issued a "Be On the Look Out" for Wortman to other RCMP members at or around 1:07 a.m. on April 19, 2020.
24. Blair and O'Brien plead that prior to Lisa Banfield informing the RCMP that Wortman was impersonating an RCMP officer (at approximately 6:30 a.m. on April 19, 2020, approximately eight hours after receiving similar information from the above-mentioned unnamed victim), Wortman killed 13 people; physically and/or psychologically injured at least five more; burned at least three residential buildings and damaged at least three motor vehicles.
25. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 8:02 a.m. on April 19, 2020, the RCMP issued a further notice on Twitter stating that there is an "active shooter situation" in Portapique where it remained on scene, and asked residents "in the area" to "stay inside your homes & lock your doors." Shortly thereafter, at approximately 8:54 a.m., a further notice on Twitter was issued by the RCMP, stating Wortman's identity and describing him as "a white man, bald, 6'2-6'3 with green eyes" and "armed & dangerous."
26. Blair and O'Brien plead that, in fact, Wortman had by this time left Debert and traveled to Wentworth, Colchester County, Nova Scotia, arriving where at or around 6:30 a.m. and remaining there until approximately 9:23 a.m., during which time he killed three people and burned at least one residential building containing two dogs.
27. Blair and O'Brien plead that, several hours later, Wortman traveled back in the direction of Debert (and eventually on to Truro, Colchester County, Nova Scotia), separately killing three more people en route between approximately 9:23 a.m. ~~9:43 a.m.~~ and 10:08 a.m.

28. Blair and O'Brien plead that at or around 9:48 a.m., Wortman also approached another home in Glenholme, Colchester County, Nova Scotia where he attempted unsuccessfully to gain access. The residents of that home contacted the RCMP at the Bible Hill detachment, who had already contacted 911 10-15 minutes prior to inform authorities of their knowledge of Wortman and his possession of replica police cars, to advise that they knew that it was Wortman who was at their home and that he was ~~in an RCMP uniform and~~ driving an RCMP cruiser. The RCMP did not respond to the call, appearing to disagree with the information provided by the Glenholme residents, the residents receiving a call shortly thereafter that Wortman was en route to Lower Onslow, Colchester County, Nova Scotia and to remain in their home. ~~Approximately 15 minutes later, a~~ At or around 10:04 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice on Twitter advising the public to "avoid HWY 4 near Hidden Hilltop campground in #Glenholme. Gabriel Wortman is in the area."
29. Blair and O'Brien plead that at approximately 10:17 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice on Twitter stating that Wortman "may be driving what appears to be an RCMP vehicle & may be wearing an RCMP uniform." A few minutes later, at or around 10:21 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice on Twitter stating that Wortman was "currently in the #CentralOnslow #Debert area in a vehicle that may resemble what appears to be an RCMP vehicle & may be wearing what appears to be an RCMP uniform. Please stay inside and avoid the area."
30. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman next traveled to Shubenacadie, Hants County, Nova Scotia in which community he injured Constable Chad Morrison and killed three more people, including Constable Heidi Stevenson, burned two motor vehicles, stole two motor vehicles and shot and injured a dog between approximately 10:49 a.m. and 11:06 a.m.
31. Blair and O'Brien plead that at or around 11:04 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice via Twitter stating that Wortman was "last seen travelling southbound on Hwy #102 from #Brookfield area in what appears to be RCMP vehicle & may be wearing RCMP uniform." At or around 11:06 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice via Twitter stating that Wortman was "now believed to be driving small silver Chevrolet SUV. Travelling southbound on Hwy #102 from #Brookfield area." Shortly thereafter, at or about 11:24 a.m., the RCMP issued a further notice via Twitter confirming that Wortman was driving a "silver Chevy Tracker" and that he was "Last seen #Milford."
32. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman next traveled to Enfield, on the border of Hants County and Halifax County, Nova Scotia where Wortman was shot and killed by the RCMP at or around 11:26 a.m., at which time he was found to be driving a Mazda3.

33. Blair and O'Brien plead that Wortman used the RCMP uniform and the replica RCMP cruiser during the majority of the Spree, except to kill the final person in Shubenacadie.
34. Blair and O'Brien plead ~~The Plaintiff pleads~~ that at no time did the RCMP, or anybody else on its behalf or independently, issue an alert via Alert Ready, an emergency alert system available to Nova Scotia to distribute public safety messages Province-wide.

Causes of Action and Liability

39. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the Class Members and those killed and injured and those who suffered property damage by Wortman were vulnerable members of society who relied exclusively on the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS for police services. Blair and O'Brien further plead that the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS owed to the Class Members a fiduciary duty to provide for their safety and security with the highest level of honesty, good faith and in the best interests of the Class Members.
40. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS owed a duty of care to the Class Members and those killed and injured and those who suffered property damage by Wortman and that the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS breached the standard of care expected of them.

41. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGC (the RCMP) and the AGNS breached their duties owed to the Class Members and those killed and injured and those who suffered property damage by Wortman as follows:

 - d) The RCMP sent too few members to Portapique to adequately respond to the crimes being committed there by Wortman;
 - e) The RCMP failed to employ an Emergency Response Team when it ought to have done so during the Spree, or when the RCMP did employ an Emergency Response Team during the Spree, it failed to do so in a timely or appropriate manner and failed to instruct said Emergency Response Team to mobilize in a manner that was likely to have located and contained Wortman;
 - f) The RCMP sent ~~an~~ alerts via Twitter that were ~~was~~ inadequate because: 1) the population affected by the Spree was older in age and less likely to be users of Twitter; 2) the internet coverage in a large portion of the area affected by the Spree was inadequate to provide the Twitter alerts to the entire population affected by the Spree; and 3) the information contained in the Twitter alerts were ~~was~~ either inaccurate or insufficient to allow the population affected by the Spree to properly protect itself;
 - g) The RCMP failed to use the Alert Ready system to send an Emergency Alert to the public in Nova Scotia to warn the public, and that such warning ought to have included the nature of Wortman's alleged crimes and that he was using an RCMP uniform and replica RCMP cruiser to assist him with his crimes;
 - h) The RCMP failed to secure the perimeter of the community of Portapique to stop Wortman from leaving that community;

- i) The RCMP failed to accept and act on credible information provided by the public, Wortman's victims and Wortman's potential victims, including but not limited to the unnamed victim who first alerted the RCMP that he had been shot by a person appearing to be in a police car on April 18, 2020 whom he believed may have been "Gabe" and the residents of Glenholme who advised on April 19, 2020 of Wortman's whereabouts and their personal knowledge of him;
- j) The RCMP failed to block the roads in northern Colchester County once it accepted that Wortman had left the community of Portapique;
- k) The RCMP failed to use all resources available to it to enable it to track, locate and stop Wortman, including but not limited to a helicopter capable of conducting both nighttime and daytime searches of the land and forest in and around Portapique and neighbouring communities wherein Wortman may have been hiding, or when it did employ such resources, it failed to do so in a timely or appropriate manner or in a manner;
- l) The RCMP failed to request the assistance of nearby municipal police services, including the Amherst Police Department and the Truro Police Service, notwithstanding that the Truro Police Service, in particular, offered assistance, was nearby, ready to assist and would have easily stopped Wortman when he traveled through Truro in the replica police cruiser;
- m) The RCMP failed to provide Constable Heidi Stevenson with a proper and adequate police cruiser and, as a result, Wortman had an advantage over her when their vehicles collided in Shubenacadie;
- n) Other breaches of duty that might become clear once disclosure and discovery are complete.

42. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGNS breached its duties owed to the Class Members as follows:

- a) It failed to put into place policies and operational requirements for the investigation of illegal weapons complaints;
- b) It failed to put into place policies and operational requirements for the investigation of complaints of physical abuse against women by their male partners;

43. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead and rely upon the following causes of action: negligence, negligent investigation and breach of fiduciary duty.
44. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGNS is liable for the wrongs committed by the RCMP via the doctrines of agency and/or vicarious liability.
45. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the AGC and the AGNS are jointly and severally liable to the Class Members for the wrongs committed by the RCMP.

Punitive Damages

46. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that the Provincial Police force (the RCMP) has handled the Spree and its aftermath in a high-handed, self-serving and disrespectful manner and is deserving of punishment. The RCMP has acted in this manner as follows:
- a) It deliberately misled O'Brien by telling him that Heather O'Brien was shot and killed from "across the road;"
 - b) It deliberately misled the Class Members and the public during its press conference on June 4, 2020 in that it confirmed that nobody was pulled over in their cars by Wortman using the replica RCMP cruiser;
 - c) It misled various of the Class Members regarding the requirements to keep the mobile phones of their deceased family members;

- d) It carelessly misled at least one of the Class Members about a possible relationship their deceased family member might have had with Wortman prior to their death;
 - e) It released the automobile of a deceased family member to a Class Member after the investigation with gun casings and body parts still in the automobile. The Class Member was required to clean the automobiles themselves;
 - f) It refused to provide information to the Class Members regarding their family members' deaths while failing to secure that information from release to other persons or organizations until such time as Class Members were properly informed;
 - g) It allowed photographs and/or videos of the deceased to be made public on social media before the Class Members were informed of their family members' deaths.
 - h) It allowed a deceased victim's body to remain in a vehicle while said vehicle was towed from a crime scene to be collected and analysed as evidence, rather than ensuring that the body was first removed and cared for in the appropriate manner before the vehicle was seized;
 - i) Other such instances of high-handed, self-serving and disrespectful conduct that might become clear once disclosure and discovery are complete.
47. Blair and O'Brien repeat the forgoing and plead that those actions of the RCMP are deserving of punishment by an award of punitive damages.
